What is Going On Tonight.

Natchaug lodge, No. 22, Knights of Pythias, meet at Castle hall, Main street.

A week of continual raids by federal and local officers came to a close Saturday night when the pool and billiard parlor of Michael Manzoni on Main street was raided about 9:30 o'clock by Lieutenant Allan MacArthur, Officer John Killourey, Federal Officer William C. Coadon, and County Detectives William E. Jackson. A card game was broken up, the pool table and ten freemasons of the place were notified to appear with Manzoni in police court this (Monday) morning.

When the officers entered everything seemed to be quiet but the officers had knowledge of a back room in the place. Finding a door open, they went in and found a man playing cards and a woman looking on. The "hot" card game was broken up, the pool table and ten freemasons of the place were notified to appear with Manzoni in police court this (Monday) morning.

Michael Manzoni, his brother, Charles Manzoni and the two men were taken to court Monday morning. The evidence was taken to the police station. During Saturday the federal men and the local police had raided two places in the city finding a gross of Jamaica ginger in each store. The proprietors, Max Bretschneider of No. 117, Main street, and Stanley O'Hara of No. 47, Main street, will be in court this (Monday) morning to answer to charges of violating the liquor law.

The police after receiving numerous complaints of break-ins into the Valley street armory, found the trouble makers in the building Sunday afternoon about 4:45 o'clock and notified them to appear in court this (Monday) morning. Eight young men and three women were taken from 7 to 17 years were found in the building. The arrests were made by Officer John Killourey, who found that the intruders had gained access to the building through breaking a window in the rear. The complaints entered told of damage caused by the parties who break into the armory to play basketball. Chairs and benches have been smashed several times and the owners determined to put a stop to this practice.

At the annual meeting of the White-Eagle Polish-American band held last week the following officers were appointed: President, Frank Nysiek; vice president, Michael Morvick; financial secretary, Ignace Hajek; recording secretary, Vincenty Kokoska; treasurer, Michael Ouhara; trustees, J. Wessien, and M. Maliga; director, Charles N. G. Wladislaw. The report of the treasurer showed the band to be on a firm financial standing. It was voted that the erection of the new Polish hall be deferred until April.

At the last meeting of Francis S. Long, Women's Relief corps, No. 35, held in Grand Army hall, plans were made for a covered dish social to be held early in February. Each member has been asked to bring a covered dish which is not to be opened until all are seated for supper at six o'clock. The corps also voted to hold a rummage sale at some future date.

The following are the committees for the year were appointed: Executive board, Carrie Hall, chairman, Kate Woodward, Nellie Penner, Lottie Gilman, Alice Trip, Mary Dimock, Mrs. Jackson, Mary Hill, Ida Chamberlin, Margaret McArthur, Dining room committee, Minnie Mathews, May Van Zant, Lillian Whitford, Maude Tuford, Lucille Gilman, Mrs. Chapman, Ida Williams, Florence Lewis, Lillian committee, Mrs. Harvett, Lottie Barrows, Silver committee, Mabel Dimock, Nellie McKell, Mary Hall, Lottie Gilman, Entertainment committee, Mrs. Lovett, Mrs. Flynn, Ada Morrill, Gladys Mason, Mrs. Jones, Alice Easterbrook, Auditing committee, Carrie Brown, Carrie Hall, Mrs. VanZant, Conference committee, Lillian French, Lila Devoy, Laura Baker, Katherine Osterhout, Employment committee, Lillian Whitford, Fannie Larkin, Lillian French.

Five aggregating $235 with costs added, totaling $122.00 were collected in police court Saturday morning from the liquor law violators taken into custody by federal and local officers Friday evening. Among those at court were Rev. A. B. Carpenter, pastor of the First Baptist church, and Frank R. Castaldi, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., in the process of the "Mines" trial and the County Prohibition committee of Willimantic.

The table of the prosecuting attorney had the appearance of a well stocked one. Brown, just caught and sent to jail, and bottles containing liquor were exhibited on the table. A long filled with liquor was not a positive mixture in the eyes of the judge. The judge said that before that time he had a license to sell it. The reason he had sold none since that date he said, was because the government had a medicine that could be used without intervention did not come under the name of Jamaica ginger. He said he had a 1920-21 permit to sell liquor and his 1922 license said nothing about the sale of Jamaica ginger. He said he had a 1920-21 permit to sell liquor and his 1922 license said nothing about the sale of Jamaica ginger.

When the case of Pierce Rockwell was called, the judge showed three charges against him, dated December 24 and 26, and January 20th. The first two cases had been continued, the time being on Saturday. The cases were continued to allow Rockwell to go before the U. S. circuit court at Hartford, where he was held $200.

Rockwell, for Rockwell explained that Rockwell denied being guilty of the charge of December 26th, and that Joe Stone was the offender. Stone was released $200.

The condition of Manuel Rose, who was stricken with a shock Friday, has not changed, and he lies critically ill at his home on Water street.

Since the discontinuation of the buses which used to carry the men to and from Westerly to their work here, the trolleys have been overhauled and there should be more cars, people think, to accommodate the traffic.

A basketball game at the Arion club house Saturday was held in $1,000 bet in West Side court on a charge of kidnapping his wife.

Margaret Sabatino told Magistrate George W. Simpson that she left her husband two months ago and went home to her parents on River Street Drive. Friday night she said she answered the doorbell and on stepping into the vestibule was seized by several men, including her husband, who threw a chloroform-soaked cloth about her head and carried her away.

She said she was then imprisoned in a house on Long Island until she agreed to meet her husband at a downtown street corner. On the way to the meeting place she telephoned a lawyer, who also came to the rendezvous, accompanied by two policemen.

Sabatino denied the abduction charge, alleging his wife had accompanied him willingly.

John Kendrick Bangs, 22—John Kendrick Bangs, humorist and lecturer, died at a hospital here late yesterday of intestinal trouble.

Mr. Bangs, who had been ill for a number of weeks, succumbed after a second operation for a growth, performed yesterday.

Once before his physicians had given up hope, but he rallied and for a time it seemed as if he would recover.

John Kendrick Bangs, famous for more than a quarter of a century as a humorist and man of letters, came of a distinguished American family. His father was a noted New York lawyer, and his grandfather, Nathan Bangs, the third president of Wesleyan university, had a wide reputation as a Methodist preacher and ecclesiastical writer.

The grand old man appeared on practically all the Lyceum and Chautauque circuits of the country. He was democratic candidate for mayor of Yonkers, N. Y., his birthplace, in 1894, but was defeated. He was also a member of the board of education of Yonkers for several terms, director of a gas company and president of the United States.

He was born May 27, 1862, and was educated at Columbia. While in college he became editor of the undergraduate publication, Acta Columbiana. He was graduated in 1883 with the degree of Ph. D., then studied a year in Columbia law school, and in 1884 became associate editor of the "New York Times".
